Philadelphia Flyers Donate $10,000 to CVAC, a local Cape May County veteran advocacy group

STONE HARBOR, August 10, 2017 – The Philadelphia Flyers Charity has contributed over $26MM to a multitude of worth non-profit organizations. Very recently, their philanthropy has extended to Cape May County, New Jersey and their focus is on CVAC, a local Cape May County veteran advocacy group who has been providing emergency financial and referral assistance to area veterans and their families since 2013.

On Thursday, August 10th at 3:45pm Flyers trainer, Jim McCorrison, and his wife Robin will be present at Post 331 in Stone Harbor as Commander Jim Fleischmann, who initially accepted the check on behalf of the Post, will present the generous gift to Johnnie Walker, Chairman of CVAC. CVAC was the designated recipient of the funds.
